From the Louisville Journal. HENRY CLAY AND ABOUTION .- There has recently been a combined effort among the Van Burenites to make the public believe Henry Clay an abolitionist. Among all their multitudinous proofs of the fact, why have they never thought to cite the conclusive evidence of the following. resolutions, which he submitted two or three months ago, to the Senate of the United States? "Resolved, That when the District of Columbia was ceded by the states of Vitginia and Maryland to the United States, domestic slavery existed in both those states, including the ceded territory; and that as it still continues in both of them, it could not be abolished, within the district, TOOMER, Commission Merchant Mowithout a violation of that good faith which was implied in the cession, and in the acceptance of the territory.

"That it is the deliberate judgment of the senate that the institution of demestic slavery ought not to be abolished within the district of Columbia; and it earnestly hopes that all sincere friends of the union, and of harmony, and gene al tranquillity, will cease to agitate this disturbing question.

"That it would be highly inexpedient to abolish slavery in Florida, the only territory of the United States in which it now exists, because of the serious alarm and just apprehensions which would thereby bile. exist in the states sustaining that domesfic institution. (!!!)

"That no power is delegated by the con-"That no power is delegated by the con-stitution to congress, to promibit, in or be-stitution to congress, to promibit, in or between the states tolerating slavery, the Mobile. sale and removal of such persons as are held in slavery by the laws of those . states, "(!)

If these resolutions do not afford overwhelming evidence that Mr. Clay is an L. Commerce street, Mobile. abolitionist, what says the reader to the additional evidence contained in the annexed remarks, with which Mr. C. accompanied the presentation of the reso-

"It appears to me, sir, that what becomes us is: to keep the abolitionists separate and distinct from the other classes, standing out in bold and prominent relief; and the subject of abolition separate and distinct from the right of petition; from Texas, and from all other subjects; let them stand alone, unmixed with the rest of the community, without the general sympathy, and exposed to the overwelming force of the united opinion of all who desire the peace, the harmony, and the union of this coufe-

SERIOUS ACCIDENT .- IMPORTANT SUR-GICAL OPERATION .- A young lad, the son of Mr. Charles Shaver, of this city, aged alout twelve years while playing upon the Gain Merchants, Mobile. 33 about twelve years, while playing upon the hay in a hay press, some time last fall, hay in a hay press, some time last fall, glided down upon an inverted pitch-fork 50 DOZEN Underwood's superior Lemon Syrup, a fresh article and warranted, resting against the mow. One of the for sale by tines of the fork penetrated the upper and inner part of his left thigh, and wounded the main artery of the limb in the groin. The consequence was, a large aneurismal tumour, formed during the winter, which was liable to burst and destroy him for loss of blood. On the 24th of April, the operation of cutting down and tying the external Harry, was performed by Dr. S. P. White, of New York, assisted by Drs. S. and G. H. WHITE, and in the presence of the other medical gentlemen of Hudson,

This interesting young lad encountered the operation with a courage which would have become a man of more mature years. We are happy to say, at the end of four weeks from the time of the operation, that the tumour has nearly subsided, the wound mostly healed, and he rapidly recovered his health and strength.

SENATORIAL DEBATE ON THE SUB-TREASURY BILL.

HE undersigned have been induced, at the instance of a number of friends to undertake the publication of the great debate in the Senate on this subject between Messrs. Webster, Calhoun and Clay. If a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained to authorize the additional expence. those of Messrs. Wright and Benton will be added, the latter being necessary to a full understanding of the subject. The three first have been received by the country as the most splendid specimens of intellectual effort of modern times. Those of Messrs. Benton and Wright, who did not participate n the personal contest with the three first named Senators, are explanatory of the Bill, and the subject is so important that it is thought desirable to publish them altogether. This work should be kept by every gentleman, to whatever profession he belongs, as a book of statisticareference upon the subject of the currency. It is proposed to publish them in a convelnient form, upon good paper and neatly bound. Economy will be consulted. Each volume will it is supposed, contain 200 pages octavo. The cost of each number is not yet ascertained. The work will be commenced as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained to defray expences. Subscribers will receive copies to the amount of their subsciption, at the lowest cost at which they can be printed. Subscription lists are at our
